News Brief | April 2023

Dear FIG C7 delegates and friends,

Herewith the April 2023 update from FIG Commission 7. It's a shorter one this month, as we start to fully focus on the 2023 Working Week in Orlando. Remember, if you have your own C7-related news and events, please send them to FIGCommission7@FIG.net.

1. All Set for Orlando!

- ISO Land Administration Domain Model (LADM)
- Women's Access to Land (and Administration) (2 back-to-back sessions)

- Land Administration Evaluation
- AI and Remote Sensing for Land Administration
- Laws, Policies and Land Reform
- Land Administration Education
- Digitalisation of Land Administration
- Digital Transformation of Land Management
- Comparative Cadastres.

Thanks to all those who have accepted roles as Chairs and Rapporteurs. If you're speaking in these sessions, you should already have received details from the FIG Office, and your Chair may be in further contact to sort out more specific details on presentation times. We look forward to seeing you there! If you've not done so already, you can still register here: <https://www.fig.net/fig2023/registration.htm>.

2. 2023-26 C7 Workplan Ready for Approval

During the General Assembly of the 2023 Orlando Working Week, the Commission 7 2023-26 Workplan will be up for formal approval. We've been working on this for some months and are now happy to provide the full document, for your information. You can find a viewable copy here

3. Update on Commission 7 Annual Meeting

The Commission 7 Annual Meeting will take place 02-04 October, in the historic Hanseatic City of Deventer, in the Netherlands. It will be a key event for continuing on from the 'kick-off' activities from Orlando, for the 2023-26 C7 Working Groups. In great news, it will be a joint event with Commission 2 (Education).

Alongside all the technical content, there will be a chance to catchup with the global cadastral community via the social events and technical tours. You will be receiving a more detailed 'save the date' very shortly. Stay tuned.
